

Alta Peruvian Bar Named a Best Après-Ski Bar in USA TODAY's 10Best Readers' Choice travel award contest

Alta, Utah (March 7, 2016) — At Alta Peruvian Lodge, Après ski involves the famous Peruvian bar, where locals and guests alike gather for a cold beer on tap and a spirited game of 'Ring on a String' Toss. And Friday, the Peruvian Bar was recognized as one of the Best Après-Ski Bars in the United States as part of 10Best Readers' Choice travel award contest, sponsored by USA TODAY.

Winners, which also included haunts in Vermont, Maine, Washington and more, were nominated by a panel of relevant experts. The panel included a combination of editors from USA TODAY and 10Best.com, and relevant expert contributors. The winners were chosen via an online voting contest by the readers of USA TODAY and 10Best.

The award comes on the heels of the Peruvian's new Local Love promotion, which finds the lodge offering an exclusive rate of $199 per night (double occupancy) for all residents of Utah Sunday through Wednesday throughout the rest of the season.

Guests who take advantage of this exclusive deal will enjoy accommodations and three full meals, including a breakfast buffet with a made-to-order omelet bar, an energizing lunch and a full-service dinner experience.

Described as "a camp for skiers" by ski toting rookies and seasoned skiers alike, the golden age of skiing is alive and well at the Peruvian. And after 78 years of pristine powder, the skiers-only paradise is still a top pick for serious skiers.
